

Fusion of arts

EARTHBORN IS a music group that was founded when it first performed at the Greenpeace International concert at Chennai. Its members have more than a decade's experience from an early beginning in pop, rock, and finally moving on to jazz. The band draws inspiration from legends such as Ella Fitzgerald, Wes Montgomery, Frank Sinatra, Thelonius Monk, and others.

The group performed at Husain Sankalana recently, curated by Amita and Gurudas Shenoy. Amidst the paintings displayed in the gallery, the musicians of Earthborn - Jagadeesh (founder-member and guitarist), Madhuri (vocalist), Prashaanth (bass guitarist), Victor Francis (drummer), and Sukanya Ramgopal, renowned ghatam player, who lent the fusion touch to the concert, gave a scintillating performance which included some great compositions such as "Levitate", "Konnakol", "Blue Fuse", and "Eastern Sunrise".

The event, Levis Jazz Fusion, was sponsored by Levis Jeans in association with Husain Sankalana.
